Making Progress on New Tennis Project

APPLICATION FILED WITH COURT FOR CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION—TO ASK FOR BIDS FOR CONSTRUCTING NEW COURTS.

The preliminary steps looking towards the development of the new home of the Narberth Tennis Association have been taken, and members and their friends will be interested to know that work on the new project will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

The Board of Trustees have entered into a preliminary agreement with the owners, and as soon as the necessary papers can be drawn, the formal agreement will be signed by the trustees. Application has been made to the Court of Common Pleas of Montgomery County for a certificate of incorporation, the application being made in the names of A. J. Newell, R. E. Pattison, Jr., A. C. Staples, J. S. Harris, officers of the Association, and W. R. D. Hall, F. M. Justice, A. G. Stephenson, W. Y. Shaw and C. L. Warwick, comprising the Board of Trustees.

At a meeting of the Trustees held Thursday night, plans were made for starting the campaign to sell ownership certificates in the reorganized Association for the purpose of financing the new development. It was also decided to ask for bids on the construction of seven of the new courts. The plans contemplate the completion of all preliminary work on the first seven courts this season.

The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society is the oldest society in the United States devoted to the interests of Horticulture. It has an excellent list of members; on the roll of membership are to be found the names of most of the prominent citizens of Philadelphia and vicinity. The list of members from the date of its foundation (1827) to the present date, has been kept complete.

Its objects, as set forth in its charter, are to promote and encourage Horticulture and create a love and interest for plants, flowers, fruits and vegetables.

In accordance with the above objects, this society is offering its silver and bronze medals as prizes at the exhibitions of the Narberth Civic Association for 1920, in order to encourage the production of better Horticultural products in Narberth and vicinity.

TO ERECT NEW HOMES.

Citizens' Association and Autocar Company Are Working to Relieve Housing Conditions on the Main Line.

Main Line residents are attacking the housing problem in deadly earnest. Not only are steps being taken to increase the number of houses, but preparations are being made to prevent, before it is too late, the erection of any dwellings that will mar or destroy the rural aspect of the countryside.

The Autocar Co., of Ardmore, is making plans for the erection of a large number of attractive homes and a few apartments.

Not only will the Autocar Co. build houses, but it will lease these dwellings to all comers, after the needs of its own employees have been met. The plan of the corporation is one of the most comprehensive of the sort ever attempted. It is expected to go a long way toward solving the housing problem of the Main Line.

David Ludlam, president of the Autocar Co., explained Wednesday just what his company is doing. "We want to be perfectly fair and square in all this," he said. "The big question along the Main Line is the housing problem, of course. Take our own town. Ardmore is short today 300 to 350 houses. There is a market right now for that many reasonably priced houses here.

"The question is how to provide these homes for the people. We have about 1,300 employees and will increase this number by 200 by the end of the year. They must be provided for. And other persons who want to live here must be provided for, too. We are going to try and aid the entire situation by renting our houses first to those of our own employees who want them, and then to any one else who wishes one.

"We are going about it in this way: We are looking about and buying land in Ardmore and in the immediate vicinity. We found, when we started out, that some property owners kited the price on us. We have left them severely alone, and are only paying what we think to be fair prices for the ground. Incidentally, the exorbitant prices asked are beginning to come down now that our attitude on the price question is known.

"Then we are going to go to builders and have them build for us. If, owing to the high cost of materials the builders cannot finance the thing themselves, we will finance them.

"So far so good. It is important in this connection that the new houses do not mar in any way the sites they occupy or the countryside. They will be of most artistic design, of five, six and seven rooms and bath. They will be so designed that they will not depreciate property in their vicinity. They must be an artistic asset.

"Furthermore, we are going to be careful not to erect any houses that will not be in keeping with the rural character of the Main Line. That must be preserved at all costs. And I may say here that if we cannot obtain enough land near Ardmore we will go some distance away and carry our employees to the plant in buses.

"We will not attempt to develop the land in huge blocks, as the Government so successfully did. We will, instead, buy small plots here, there and everywhere and improve each with a few dwellings of the type I have described. We may even erect an apartment house or two—in a suitable neighborhood, of course.

"We have not yet figured what the rents will be. There will be nothing given away. That would not be fair to builders and others. And there must be a fair but moderate return upon the capital invested.

"All the houses will be modern, attractive and 'homey.' If necessary, we will build streets, lay sewers and other pipes and sidewalks. There is more land than is needed in this section, not enough homes. We will try to balance things up a bit. No houses will be torn down to make room for these new homes. We need all the houses we have."

Alfred M. Colins, head of the Main Line Citizens' Association, said: "Everywhere along the Main Line the movement is under way to provide houses suitable for persons of moderate means, and for workingmen. All sorts of houses are very scarce, land is high in price, and the tendency is to put up the cheapest sort of development that will pay the largest return.

"This we will combat. Rows of houses are entirely out of place, and unnecessary. We want houses that will be a part of the general rural atmosphere."

Spring Days Make Cub Sentimental

POPULAR REPORTER ENJOYS BALMY SUNDAY OF TWO WEEKS AGO, AND IS TOUCHED.

To the Editor of Our Town:

A week ago last Sunday morning Narberth woke up and found a Stranger within her gates. And what a welcome that stranger received! For weeks and weeks we had been awaiting Old Sol's arrival, but he had disappointed us so many times that we had almost forgotten what the old geezer looked like. When we woke up—it was Sunday morning, you know—we jumped right out of bed—yes, we did, not. The only man who gets up early on Sunday morning is the Street Commissioner. Just why he should prowl around the town at 6 A. M. Sundays, someone else will have to explain. Of course, you'll say that the milk man and Howard Davis also get up early Sunday mornings, but 'taint so. They rise on Saturday night. Well, it gets around to 8 or 9 o'clock, and it looks unusually bright outside, so we decide it's time to get a move on. We look out the window and, my goodness, the sun is shining more brightly than it has in months. Down stairs we go to breakfast, incidentally not forgetting our ablutions and a few clothes. We find a good meal ready for us, having a well organized household, you know. We look over the paper and are struck by the number of seedsmen's and garden machinery ads., after which we notice a story by a man who has made a fortune raising chickens and who is so anxious to have everybody else grow rich that he is selling incubators, not for profit, of course, but for the good of his fellowman, and then the thought springs up: How stupid not to thunk of it before. Spring has came! We look out and find that the town is pretty wide awake, although we can still hear Bill Cummer's snore, in spite of the noise from the railroad.

After we have returned from church, we get outside of a good dinner and decide to take a walk,—it's such a lovely day, you know. So we take our cane and wife and start around the town to see what changes have been made during our hibernation. That's a good word—it means something Irish, I think. It's great to be educated! First, we head for Anthwyn Farms to see what has become of the several million loads of lumber, the hauling of which during the winter months hasn't done a thing to our roads. At the Farms—we don't see any farms, but never mind, we see Narberth's big apartment house grown only a trifle since last fall, owing probably to the absence of the brick layers, carpenters, etc., who are still sojourning at their Southern California bungalows, but its ultimate shape is still something to be guessed at. A little further along we see a row of what appear to be striped affairs, but a closer inspection reveals the fact that they are not stripes but slats pasted on black paper, and that the affairs are really intended for houses. After leaving Slat Row we notice a throng going toward the General Wayne, and now our curiosity is thoroughly aroused. The figure of Governor Edwards appears before our vision, and we smile in happy anticipation.—but we were out of luck as usual. It was only the Tennis Club crowd and their wives and babies and mother-in-laws out for an inspection of the site of the new tennis courts and club house. Suddenly somebody shrieks and our disappointment is for-

SCHOOL NOTES

Easter vacation found many of our alumni at home. That, of course, meant we had the pleasure of their company at school. The class of 1919 was particularly well represented. Before the Easter exercises the class replanted its flower bed around the sun dial.

The orchestra is growing in popularity. Several requests for its services have come recently from local organizations.

The second of the series of interclass debates is taking place this week. Two weeks ago the Sophomore boys defeated the Freshmen.

The Seniors are hustling their yearbook project. Some interesting things are going to appear, judging from "cats that jump out of the bag." Advanced subscriptions, up to and including April 15th, may be had for 75 cents. This means no advance over the price at which it was offered last year, regardless of the increased cost of printing. After April 15th the price will be $1.00. The class needs the whole-hearted support of the town people, as well as the members of the school. Any member of the Senior Class will be glad to take your subscription by word, phone, or letter.

Support Home Talent.

"Variety is the spice of life." That is one reason for having such a large cast for the Senior play, "Miss Somebody Else," which is to be given in the High School Auditorium Saturday, April 17th, at 8 P. M.

An added attraction will be the new High School Orchestra. It is well worth your hearing, and is deserving of your encouragement.

With two such inducements, how can you do other than come to enjoy the Senior actors and actresses?

Tickets may be obtained for fifty cents. A few reserved seats for early purchasers may be had for seventy-five. Any pupil selling ten tickets will be awarded admission free.

RUBBISH FIRES.

In the spring time when a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of —baseball, the housekeeper's thoughts turn to spring house cleaning and the gardener's to cleaning up the lawns and gardens and burning litter, dried leaves, etc.

Quite frequently fires are lighted and are not carefully watched so that burning brands are likely to fly around and set fire to the large dry grass patch, or perhaps ignite the shingle roof.

While the Narberth Fire Company is always ready and willing to answer a call, the people can save many unnecessary trips by either burning their rubbish in metal containers which are made for this purpose, or carefully watching their fires; if possible waiting for a day when there is no high wind.

Let us co-operate with ourselves.

BUILDERS' EXCHANGE ACTIVITIES.

(From Builders' Guide of March 24.)

The fourth luncheon of the Master Builders' Exchange will be held at the Clover Room, Bellevue-Stratford, Thursday, March 25th, at 12.30. Prior to the luncheon, the Membership Committee will hold a meeting in the same room at 12 M.

Those who failed to lunch with the Exchange members last Thursday missed a most inspiring address. Fletcher Stites, a prominent Philadelphia lawyer, was substituted at the last minute to speak in place of Major General Price. General Price was to give the members some vital message for men. Certainly no one will doubt that Mr. Stites gave a message to the members that was as good as has been heard for years, if not as good as we ever had.

Mr. Stites astounded his audience by his marvelous memory in quoting at great length from masterpieces of English literature and from the world's history. The idealism and Americanism conceived by Mr. Stites, and made practical by his very clear explanation, were most exalted. Tracing back through the various periods of time his philosophy, Mr. Stites made manifest that real idealism and genuine Americanism had their inception at the time of Christ, when the Divine Master promulgated His doctrines.

Mr. Thomas Armstrong is to be congratulated on the selection of Mr. Stites as a substitute and, from the opinion voiced by the members present, Mr. Stites will be most welcome as a regular speaker.

Mr. Armstrong, in his convivial manner, told a few experiences of his recent trip to the coast and added a story appropriate at this season. Mr. Armstrong's suggestion to the members that they introduce themselves to each other and get better acquainted is most fitting. Why sit around like a bump on a log waiting to be formally presented to your neighbor at the luncheon table? Get acquainted. Introduce yourself. No one will harm you if you accost a stranger and tell who you are and ask the other fellow his name. It would not be amiss to put a small card in the buttonhole of our coats displaying our names, so any embarrassment that might exist because of not knowing every one might be removed.

This Thursday, Mr. Thomas Shallcross, former president of the Philadelphia Real Estate Board and ex-president of the Kiwannis Club, will speak at the luncheon. Mr. Shalleross has an interesting address, we are sure, as his style is always quite free and his arguments are always forceful.

Come out and hear some good speeches. An hour once a week with the members of the Builders' Exchange will give you a new lease on life.

Answers to Correspondents

Readers making inquiries will please write the answers they would like us to make on the reverse side of the sheet.

SOUTH SIDE: No, the young man whose picture appeared in last week's issue is not married, and to the best of our knowledge is not likely to be soon. The clothes which you seem to admire so highly were bought before the War and we understand they are all wool. We'll ask him about growing a mustache, but isn't that rather a personal question? Your handwriting is adorable, but Mr. Howard was mean when he sold you that extract. Make him take it back.

NARBROOK PARK: Suggest you wait for the lightning-bugs, as you got along without any lights at all last winter, and why do you need them now that the nights are shorter? Maybe the Civic Association can arrange for more than one moon a month, but at any rate you must not expect everything in this life, you know. Can't understand your request for better roads, as if you get them your family is sure to want a machine, and then what are you going to do? That new hat your daughter's wearing must have set you back a bit, but she's worth it, man, every cent of it, and there's nothing you should refuse her.

CUTIE: You guessed it right, little dear, we have received a number of letters about the picture in the paper, but none as interesting as yours. We'll tell him what you say about that moving picture idea, but we can't answer for him on that other question. It's Leap Year, don't forget, and it's not known to man that he ever refused a single request that was ever made on him. Faint heart never won fine man, remember, but don't use that violent violet paper when you write him and don't forget by any means to enclose a couple of dahlia roots.

FIRE-HOUSE: We don't know why people in the drug business usually have red hair, but maybe it has something to do with those old days when the apothecary used colored water as the sign of his trade. Nowadays your modern pharmacist uses that same colored water in the prescriptions, and who knows but what red hair has a bearing on that very thing? He's at the Fire-House the first Thursday of every month, and we suggest you get him in a corner and put the question right at him yourself, but don't be so mean as to regard the answer as private property after we told you how to get it.

NARBERTH AVE.: We can't say definitely when the Hipkiss' are going to open up their new house, but you can be very sure it will be an event to be remembered. An option has already been secured on both the ham and the cabbage, and we are in a position to state positively that there is no truth whatever in the rumor that the affair might be postponed until the repeal of the 18th Amendment. Fred has a lot of friends, he has, and besides he's a foresighted fellow himself, even if he is a Democrat.

TWO MARIES: You ask us if we ever heard of a young lady who liked a certain spring hat, but didn't like its price, and so decided to fall on the steps of the store to get enough money to pay for it. Well, now, we wouldn't think that such a thing was possible, but there's no telling what will happen with the mad rush of fashion which has its grip on our poor old world, and I'm thinking that if the ladies would only adopt the poke-bonnets again, the same one for the whole year, it would go a long ways towards eliminating Bolshevism. Let's see if the Community Club won't take that matter up.

IONA HEART: We can't possibly answer your question this week, for we haven't had a solitary opportunity to ask him where he is going this summer. Will let you know later. Yes, it was a good idea to print his picture, and we agree with all you say about his pulchritude, but as long as his name was printed, too, I can't understand why you girls didn't take these personal matters up direct. We're always disposed to be co-operative, decidedly so, but we simply cannot play any favorites. His phone number is in the book and under his regular name.

CAN'T QUALIFY BECAUSE OF MEASLES.

POSTPONES WOMEN'S POLITICAL DEBATE.

The political debate arranged by the Woman's Club of Cynwyd, between Mrs. Rosalie Loew Whitney, of New York, who will present the Republican point of view, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, of Washington, who will give the Democratic side, is postponed until Thursday evening, April 15. The meeting will be held at St. Matthias' Hall.

—Many a fellow who boasts about his pull with the girls is eventually roped in.

—Many a good man has a bad son, but it's a poor rule that won't work both ways.

—Every man to his trade. Still, the football player has to know his block and tackle as well as the rigger.

—Muggins: "A bottle of champagne always used to give me a splitting headache." Buggins: "I recall, however, that you were always willing to split one with me."

—"People talk about me just terribly," said the society woman. "Perhaps if you didn't wear your gowns so low the backbiters might be discouraged," suggested the long-suffering husband.

Main Line Amateur League Re-elects Charlie McCrea as President.
A Six-Club Circuit.

They're off! The Main Line League of simon-pure amateur baseball artisans met on Tuesday night at the Men's Club in Wayne, reorganized for the season of 1920, retaining the same membership as last year, appointed a schedule committee and got everything in shape for the opening of the season.

The various clubs were represented at the meeting by the following magnates:

Wayne, Charles C. Shoemaker; Bryn Mawr, Lacy Gane and Guy Wright; Berwyn, Larrie Higgins; Paoli, Lew Hatch; St. Denis, of Ardmore, Edward Groff, and Narberth, Charlie Burns and Lew Nicholson.

Officers were elected as follows:

President, Charles A. McCrea, Berwyn.

First Vice-President, A. A. H. Canizares, Wayne.

Second Vice-President, Guy Wright, Bryn Mawr.

Secretary-Treasurer, Walter G. Compton, Berwyn.

It was decided to play the same schedule as last year—twenty games with a split season. A Schedule Committe, consisting of Messrs. McCrea, Shoemaker and Wright, was named.

His majesty the Ump will receive $5 a game and expenses this year, and the dues were increased from $8 to $12 per month. A forfeit of $10, returnable at the end of the season, will be posted by each club.

An organization to foster all branches of sport has been organized at Bryn Mawr, and that team will play under the name of the Bryn Mawr Men's Club. Who will manage Wayne is as yet an open question. The names most heard are Ab. Brooke, Bert Ferguson and Austin Houck.

The Women's Auxiliary Narberth Y.M.C.A.

The Governing Board of the Women's Auxiliary is very anxious to dispose of the following at an early date. The prices asked will be most attractive, and the members of the Board will be glad to serve you at any time, if you phone 1611 W, or 623 R.

15 aprons made of gingham, percale, lawn, etc., in bungalow, garden, and other styles, all perfectly fresh.

25 small celluloid dolls dressed in their very best gowns and all ready to please the kiddies.

100 bottles of vanilla, lemon and orange flavoring. About one hundred bottles have already been sold and have given entire satisfaction. The price is 35 cents per two-ounce bottle.

The revenue derived from the above will help to pay a coal bill which must be settled by April 30th. May we serve you?

Rummage.

The rummage is coming in very satisfactorily, but we will be grateful for additional contributions. Please phone your wishes to 1611 W, or 623 R.

Will the members please return at once to Mrs. Darlington all aprons and to Mrs. Romaine Hoffman all dolls which were distributed several months ago to be prepared for the bazaar?

All members of the Auxiliary are reminded to reserve the last night of April, Friday, the 30th, for the Y. M. C. A.

Why Blankets and Comforts Need Washing Now

Our ideas about many familiar things develop as we move along. If blankets and comforts were washed once a twelve-month a century ago, our forefathers thought it was sufficient.

Now we know that these bedclothes become soiled, even if to the eye they may seem sanitary enough.

If you would have your blankets and comforts as spotless and immaculate as your other bed linen, send them to us. We employ a special method of laundering that makes them light and fresh, that gives them a wonderful fluffiness.

Our method of drying frees blankets and comforts from every impurity—gives to them the feel and look that nature bestows when they are dried in the sunshine on a summer's day.

Send us such of your comforts and blankets as you can spare the next time our representative calls for your family washing. Or, telephone, and we will have our man stop in when next he visits your neighborhood.

A WORLD REBUILT

By the Golden Rule
not by the rule of Gold

THIRTY denominations of the Church are uniting in a simultaneous campaign in the week of April 25th-May 2nd.

They are uniting because the task before the Church is too great for any one denomination; because there must be no duplication of effort; no waste.

These churches know that the world needs many things; but it needs Faith most of all.

They know that there can be no final solution of our economic problems that is not a spiritual solution, based on the teachings of Jesus Christ and His Golden Rule.

They have had the courage to survey the whole task, and to ask for a budget large enough to sustain (1) the work abroad, (2) the work at home including the church's part in the huge task of Americanization, (3) the colleges and (4) hospitals supported by the Churches, (5) the religious training of the young, and to provide (6) a living wage for the Church's ministers.

The budget is large in the aggregate; yet if each person who loves America would increase his contribution by only a few dollars the whole amount would be easily subscribed.

We face the task of rebuilding the world. Let the cornerstone be a strong and vital church in every American community; and the measuring rod by which the builders build must be the Golden Rule.

Athletics.

The High School promises to have a good nine this spring, and, weather permitting, will open the season at Ardmore on Friday afternoon, when they cross bats with the Lower Merion High School. With only two days of outdoor work, our boys play their first game against a well formed team, but expect to come home victors. Our field is still in bad condition, but a few days of sun and breezes will allow us to get to work in earnest.

The track team has entered the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival and the Lower Merion interscholastics. We have some promising boys, and with a little training they should bring honors to the school. Narberth is rarely represented in these meets, and this year is our chance to get in and beat the gun.

SPRING DAYS MAKE CUB SENTIMENTAL.

gotten in the excitement. Children cuddle up to their parents, who in the meantime are seeking shelter from a danger the nature of which is not yet quite apparent to us. But we know a moment later. Down the avenue comes a two-seated, twelve-passenger Overload at the rate of 60 miles an hour and driven by that prince of chauffeurs, the Count DuMarais. Of course, when it is seen that the Count is at the wheel our fears are quieted and we hang our heads in shame, because the Count never runs over people. His specialty is stone pillars, etc.

We continue our stroll and find many new developments under way, especially of Anthwyn Farm properties. We wonder when, if ever, that tract will enjoy the privilege of becoming a part of the "Year Round Home Town." When the tennis folks have laid out their new courts and their dream of a club house has become a realization, that upper Haverford avenue section will be an even more desirable place to reside than it is today and incidentally a valuable advertisement of Narberth.

It seemed as though everybody in Narberth was out and that everybody was happy. It was as though we were so many shut-ins who had suddenly been released and had decided to make the most of it. At the southwest corner of Windsor and Forrest we thought for a moment we were in Scranton because the sidewalk resembled so much the cave-ins which are so common in the hard coal capital. At Narbrook Park the mud was quite deep, which prevented our approaching several apparently good substantial houses in the course of erection. Councilman Wentz was roaming about wringing his hands and wailing, "Oh, these roads! What shall we ever do?" These politicians are amusing—they really think they are getting away with that stuff. As though they cared how the taxpayers' hard earned dollars were spent. Can't fool us, by heck.

Well, we're tired—perhaps not as the writer, and we go home, passing through Ashville on the way, being well satisfied with our first spring outing and feeling that Narberth is becoming a more and more desirable residential town all the time.

Truth must be told, no matter whom it hurts. Let no one say that Our Town isn't fair, even though the editor himself is on trial. Therefore I ask you, Sir, why you run a jitney in Narberth without possessing a jitney license? Are you exempt just because the big office holders are your customers? Morning after morning the Burgess, Hunter McDowell and one or two other local lights are seen at the post office awaiting the arrival of your hack. Of course, it s assumed that you collect fares from these regulars, as no one would believe for a moment that men of their standing would accept continued free transportation. And such being the case, you are competing with the P. R. R. and should take out a taxicab license, pull or no pull.

CUB.

LITERAL OBEDIENCE.

The principal of one of two grammer schools in a New England city, Mr. Jones by name, wished to get some extra geographies from Mr. Brown, principal of the other school, and so he sent a boy with a note to that effect.

In half an hour the boy returned, bringing a heavy office chair, and a moment later another boy arrived with a request from Mr. Brown that the first boy should bring back the chair that he had carried off.

Mr. Jones was mystified. "What did you say to Mr. Brown when you went to the school?" he asked his own messenger.

"I didn't say anything," was the reply. "I just gave him the note."

"What then?"

"He told me to take a chair, and I took it and brought it up here."—Youth's Companion.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsman, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.

As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.
